

Success Story

When Zach started Vision Therapy we knew that he was a smart boy, but we could tell he got frustrated very easily. We also noticed awkward body movements and slow progress with sports. We were so excited to learn that Drs. Mattson and Ms. Rita could help him overcome his frustrations. Zach loved going to Vision Therapy. Everyone made it fun even though he was working hard. Home work therapy was very beneficial even though we <sup>(Zach)</sup> had our moments of complaining about it. Every evaluation we all saw progress and knew it was worth every appointment. Zach saw therapy day as a time to do fun and cool things. His parents saw it as a blessing to decrease frustration levels and the ability to play sports with his friends. Thank you Drs Mattson, Ms. Rita and Staff for all that you do to help children reach their potential.
